

IS YOUR BUSINESS READY TO RESPOND TO DOMESTIC & FAMILY VIOLENCE (D&FV)?

D&FV affects 1 in 3 women. 2 out of 3
of them are in the workplace.

Is your business equipped to implement the new entitlements, manage the emerging liabilities and respond to the risks in this growing area of industrial law? Does your retention and diversity strategy address DV as a key issue? How can your workplace support staff who are experiencing DV? Do your managers know what to do if and when this issue arises for your staff?

This panel presentation will bring together policy makers, national researchers and local business leaders to share what they have learned about responding to domestic and family violence in the workplace. They will share their insights, strategies and practical advice to assist you and your business.

Learn the latest information and how local businesses are responding:

Ludo McFerran
DV at Work Research
Affiliate University of Sydney

Jessica Watkinson CEO YWCA in Darwin

Clarissa Gamble
HR Manager
Maurice Blackburn

Lenore Dembski
Principal Program
Officer
Domestic and Family Violence Work Aware

Friday Oct 13th 11am-1.30pm
Development House
76 The Esplanade, Darwin

TICKETS: $40 (includes lunch)
To purchase tickets go to www.trybooking.com/RAEY

ph: 8981 0655
e: admin@ntwwc.com.au

october
BUSINESS month 2017

DFV Work Aware
when domestic & family violence comes to work NT Working Women's Centre

